

GETTING INTO THE GAME

Repositioning the Library
within the Academy

Third Colorado Academic Library
Summit
May 23, 2008

Getting into the Game: Repositioning the Library within the Academy

Third Colorado Academic Library Summit

May 23, 2008

Preconference:

Are you Screencasting?

Here is your chance to learn how to create and edit animated tutorials at this half-day workshop!

Where: Regis University

Instructor: Paul Betty

When: May 22, 2008
1:00 - 4:00 pm

Cost: $40.00
(Separate Registration Required)

Free transportation from the conference hotel to Regis
University will be provided.

<http://calcweb.org/calc-summit-2008-preconference.html>

Sponsored by Regis
University

Morning Keynote by Alice Robison, Post-Doctoral Fellow in the Comparative Media Studies program at MIT, who will present Videogames at the Library?! Using Games as Learning Tools, reviewing current research on videogames and learning as well as ways that videogames might be used to build culture and community spaces within and around libraries.

Luncheon Keynote Program featuring ACRL President, Julie Todaro who will present Positioning the 21st Century Library in the Competitive Academy: Why We Can't Wait.

Programs and digital poster sessions include:

- Descent and Sensibility: Considering LibraryThing and Digressive Bibliography
- Library Instruction Without Librarians: Embedding Information Literacy Tutorials In Course Management Systems
- Collaboration to Support Student Writing
- Developing an Institutional Repository: Implementation of DigiTool at Colorado State University Libraries
- PLUS MANY MORE (20 sessions in all)

Location:

Denver Sheraton West Hotel

Registration - $85

Register online now!

For more information, contact Valerie Horton vhorton@clibweb.org

Colorado Academic Library Consortium (CALC)
Colorado Academic Library Association (CoALA)

May 23, 2008

www.calcweb.org/summit2008

