

Professional Development Events – Training – Conferences – Academic Year 2016-2017 (updated 122116)

This chart includes only trainings/professional development events, including webinars, broadcasts, and face-to-face events. With very few exceptions, it does not include meetings such as Advisory Councils, small group/committee meetings; phone conferences; small meetings to develop proposals or other content unless the requestor has specifically indicated that a large number of Special Education Directors are involved. There may be a few Sped Directors on individual committees or work groups, but it would be up to each of them to avoid scheduling conflicts. Items shaded in pink are web-based (e.g., webinars, online courses).

The first column includes the main topic/category addressed by the event. The Team/Contact Person column names the Team within the ESSU that is primarily responsible for the event along with the consultant who is the event organizer.

This chart includes only trainings/professional development events, including webinars, broadcasts, and face-to-face events. With very few exceptions, it does not include meetings such as Advisory Councils, small group/committee meetings; phone conferences; small meetings to develop proposals or other content unless the requestor has specifically indicated that a large number of Special Education Directors are involved. There may be a few Sped Directors on individual committees or work groups, but it would be up to each of them to avoid scheduling conflicts. Items shaded in pink are web-based (e.g., webinars, online courses).

The first column includes the main topic/category addressed by the event. The Team/Contact Person column names the Team within the ESSU that is primarily responsible for the event along with the consultant who is the event organizer.

Dates that have been confirmed are listed. Some events are to be announced.

There may be a few Sped Directors on individual committees or work groups, but it would be up to each of them to avoid scheduling conflicts. Items shaded in pink are web-based (e.g., webinars, online courses).

The first column includes the main topic/category addressed by the event. The Team/Contact Person column names the Team within the ESSU that is primarily responsible for the event along with the consultant who is the event organizer.

Dates that have been confirmed are listed. Some events are to be announced.

This chart includes only trainings/professional development events, including webinars, broadcasts, and face-to-face events. With very few exceptions, it does not include meetings such as Advisory Councils, small group/committee meetings; phone conferences; small meetings to develop proposals or other content unless the requestor has specifically indicated that a large number of Special Education Directors are involved. There may be a few Sped Directors on individual committees or work groups, but it would be up to each of them to avoid scheduling conflicts. Items shaded in pink are web-based (e.g., webinars, online courses).
