Join us for an online, self-paced course that is opened through the summer for any speech-language pathologist who is new to supervising speech-language pathology assistants (SLPAs) in Colorado or who needs a review.*

This free course meets ASHA's 2-hour supervision requirement, and 10 CDE contact hours are available.

The course consists of three modules with narrated presentations, articles, and resources to support you in your role as supervisor. There are three quizzes that must be passed at 80% in order to receive your contact hours certificate.

This course is designed for SLPs who will be supervising SLPAs for the first time or need a refresher on:

- Understanding supervisory processes, including collaborative models of supervision.
- Roles and responsibilities of supervisors, not performance review evaluators.
- Roles and responsibilities of SLPAs according to Colorado rules and regulations.
