CDE/AEFL Guide to Professional Development Reporting for Colorado Adult Educators FY14

What is the CDE/AEFL Professional Development System?

It is important that all adult educators continue to increase their knowledge and improve their skills by participating in ongoing professional development each year. The CDE/Adult Education & Family Literacy Professional Development System provides a means for Colorado adult education teachers to receive recognition for the professional development activities in which they engage. The system was developed jointly by the ten-member Professional Development Advisory Group (PDAG) and the nine-member Literacy Instruction Authorization (now Adult Basic Education Authorization) Portfolio Committee. The documents that represent the PD system are the Colorado AEFL Professional Development Flowchart which is located online at

<http://www.cde.state.co.us/sites/default/files/documents/cdeadult/download/pdf/pdfflowchartv13whours.pdf>

and this document, the Guide to Professional Development Reporting for Colorado Adult Educators which can be found online at <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/PDIndex.htm> or <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/PDPolicy.htm>

How do I earn professional development (PD) hours?

The starting point of the Professional Development System is the web-based Professional Development Self-Assessment for Colorado Adult Education Teachers. Adult education teachers in Colorado complete the on-line self-assessment in the early fall or soon after beginning employment with an AEFLA-funded adult education program. Using the results of the self-assessment, you and your program director complete a Professional Development Action Plan which identifies a few topics on which to focus your professional development for the year. The Professional Development Self-Assessment for Colorado Adult Education Teachers is available on the CDE/AEFL website at <http://www.cde.state.co.us/scripts/pdselfassess/start.asp>

Throughout the fiscal year (July 1 – June 30th), you'll participate in a variety of professional development activities. You might watch a video on teaching methods, read articles on adult development, attend regional trainings on adult education assessments, take a college course, or participate on an improvement team at your program. You can complete some professional development by yourself at home, some with colleagues at your local adult education center, and some with other adult educators at the state or national level. This Guide shows the full range of professional development possibilities available to you. The activities are organized into four strands: Self-Study, Collaboration with Colleagues, Workshops/Trainings/Conferences, and Courses for Credit. There are also several options listed separately as Preparation for Professional Development. It is highly recommended that you participate in professional development activities in two or more strands throughout the year.

Each time you complete a professional development activity throughout the year, you'll record the details and calculate the PD hours earned on a CDE/AEFL Teacher's Annual Professional Development Activity Record form which you can download from <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/PDPolicy.htm>. Your supervisor or program director will approve the hours. Keep a careful record of the professional development activities you engage in and the PD hours you earn each year.

How many PD hours do I earn for various professional development activities?

This Guide to Professional Development Reporting for Colorado Adult Educators describes the typical professional development activities in which most Colorado adult education teachers participate, and indicates the assigned PD hours. By skimming through this document and thinking back to the many professional development activities you completed last year, you'll recognize how much professional development you have completed. Note that each time you complete a professional development activity you earn PD hours only in one strand of the flowchart. For example, if a web browse is assigned as part of a course you are taking, you get PD hours for the course (Strand 4 - Courses), but not additional hours for a web browse (Strand #1 – Self-Study).

What if a PD activity I'm interested in isn't described in this Guide to Professional Development Reporting?

The CDE/AEFL Professional Development System strives to be flexible and acknowledge a wide variety of professional development activities for teachers. Therefore, this Guide includes a "Director-Approved Self-Study Special Project" under the Self-Study strand and "Local Program Special Project" under the Collaboration with Colleagues strand. If you identify a PD activity not described in this Guide, please talk with your program director. Your program director, in consultation with PDAG through the state PD Coordinator, can determine an appropriate number of PD hours and appropriate evidence of completion for your activity.

Why are the PD hours different from the actual clock hours that teachers spend participating in a professional development activity?

This document uses ranges of clock hours that are typical for common professional development activities in adult education. For example, a half-day workshop is typically between 3-4 clock hours; a program improvement team may require ongoing blocks of 10-12 clock hours of participation. In addition, individual teachers' levels of participation in any given PD activity can vary. For example, Teacher A may attend a study circle and spend eight hours trying out a new strategy in her classroom while Teacher B, attending the same study circle, may spend more or fewer hours trying out a new strategy. The Professional Development Advisory Group, which developed the PD system, recognized that no system could accurately reflect the array of individual variation in clock hours invested in PD activities. Thus, the PDAG decided to award a "flat rate" of PD hours to each PD option regardless of differences in actual 'clock' hours invested by different teachers. Along a similar vein, the Professional Development Advisory Group assigned more PD hours to professional development activities such as trainings and workshops in which participants take a more active role than to activities such as conference presentations in which participants take a more receptive role. Finally, a conference presenter invests many more "clock hours" preparing a presentation than the hour it takes to present the session at a conference. She or he is, therefore, awarded additional PD hours than the participants, although both are in the conference session for the same number of "clock hours".

How many PD hours do I have to earn each year?

Currently there are no mandatory requirements from the state for earning a specific number of PD hours annually. Below are recommended annual PD hours for teachers based on their hours related to instruction. Your program director may set expectations locally for her/his teaching staff. Hours related to instruction include any or all of the following paid activities: classroom teaching, preparation time, administering assessments or managing volunteers. Each year you are asked to keep track of your professional development activities and the PD hours earned on the Annual Professional Development Activity Record which you can download from <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/PDPolicy.htm> you'll give a copy of your Activity Record to your program director at the end of the fiscal year. In the same way that adult learner outcomes are reported for the fiscal year and then closed out, the PD hours of teachers are earned for the fiscal year, reported and then closed out. Hours can't be carried over from one year to the next.

Teacher's weekly hours related to instruction	Recommended PD Hours and PD Strands
2-8	20 PD hours acquired across 1 or more PD strands
9-19	40 PD hours acquired across 2 or more PD strands
20+	60 PD hours acquired across 2 or more PD strands

This guide describes “evidence of completion” for each PD activity. Do I have to attach the evidence to my PD Activity Record when I turn it in to my program director?

The descriptions of “evidence of completion” provide guidance to you and your program director about the variety of ways to demonstrate your participation in the professional development activity. You should maintain an annual folder of your evidence of completion to show your program director. In addition, the evidence of completion will help you prepare your Adult Basic Education Authorization (ABEA) portfolio and/or your application for ABEA renewal. Your program director may or may not want to keep paper copies of your evidence of completion. Program directors do not send evidence of completion to the Colorado Department of Education Adult Education and Family Literacy office.

I am working to earn my Adult Basic Education Authorization (ABEA). My colleague already has the Adult Basic Education Authorization. Does the PD system apply to us?

The PD system applies to all AEFLA-funded adult education teachers in Colorado, including those in the ABEA process. Teachers who are submitting their portfolios and/or applying for renewal document their recent training activities and hours. The Professional Development Self-Assessment and PD options listed under the Self-Study strand are not acceptable training options for the ABEA training hours or for ABEA renewal. For complete information about the professional development options that are acceptable for renewing an ABEA, please refer to Section 8 of the ABEA Handbook located on the ABEA webpage at <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/laindex>.

Where can I find the professional development I need?

Once you have identified your needs using the Professional Development Self-Assessment for Colorado Adult Education Teachers you have many professional development resources available to you. Refer to the Professional Development Monthly Advisor and Planner (PD MAP) that lists monthly PD events plus a variety of resources organized around a monthly theme. All issues of the PD MAP are available at <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/PDMap.htm>. If you are new to teaching adults, the New Teacher Profiles – A, B, and C document lays out an initial course of professional development for new teachers - <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/NTIndex.htm>. Locally, ask your program director about upcoming in-services, program improvement teams, curriculum development projects, regional trainings, and the annual Rendezvous adult education conference sponsored by the Colorado Adult Education Professional Association (CAEPA). Talk with your program director or contact the CDE Adult Education and Family Literacy office for information about the for-credit EDU adult education courses offered through many community colleges in the state.

Where can I learn more about professional development for Colorado adult education teachers?

Professional Development System Activities, Descriptions, and Hours

The following tables identify professional development activities and their associated PD hours in four strands plus Preparation for Professional Development.

- Self-Study
- Collaboration with Colleagues
- Workshops, Trainings, and Conferences
- Courses for Credit

Colorado's Adult Education and Family Literacy teachers earn PD hours as specified in each of the following tables. Professional development activities listed in all four strands of this Guide to Professional Development Reporting are acceptable for annual CDE/AEFL reporting. The Professional Development Self-Assessment and PD options listed under the Self-Study strand are not acceptable training options for the ABEA training hours or for ABEA renewal. For complete information about the professional development options that are acceptable for renewing the ABEA, please refer to the ABEA Renewal Policy webpage at <http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdeadult/LIAv4Section8.htm>.

The Colorado AEFL Professional Development Flowchart, which can be found online at, provides a quick visual overview of the PD system for Colorado's adult education teachers. However, for a full description of each PD option on the flowchart and for guidance on accurately calculating the PD hours earned, please rely on this Guide to Professional Development Reporting.

Preparation for Professional Development

Professional Development Activity	Description
Professional Development Self-Assessment and PD Action Plan 2 PD hours	Teachers complete the Professional Development Self-Assessment for Colorado Adult Education Teachers on the CDE website and, in consultation with their program director/supervisor, complete their individual Professional Development Action Plan . Evidence of completion: PD Self-Assessment certificate of completion, copy of written PD action plan
Orientation for teachers new to adult education 6 PD hours	This is a six hour (minimum) workshop, study circle, online course or self-study option geared for teachers new to the adult education field. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of attendance signed by trainer/facilitator, certificate of completion from online course, completed online assignments, online post-tests, record of workshop dates and hours, notes taken, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
Basics of Adult Literacy Education: An online course for adult literacy instructors 3 PD hours per completed module	This self-paced, non-facilitated online course from the federal Office of Vocational and Adult Education covers five modules: The Adult Learner, Orientation & Assessment, Curriculum Development, Instructional Techniques, and Adult Literacy Classroom . Available online at: http://www.c-pal.net/course/index.html Evidence of completion: Ideas, Notes and Reflections Worksheet for each separate module, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning.
EL/Civics Online 3 PD hours per completed module	This self-paced, non-facilitated online course from the federal Office of Vocational and Adult Education covers four modules: U.S. Government, U.S. History, Civic Engagement, and The Naturalization Process . Available online at: http://www.elcivicsonline.org Evidence of completion: Printout of online journal completed during each separate module, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning.
Portfolio Process 2 PD hours (per course submitted by portfolio)	Teacher gathers evidence of education, experience, and training pertinent to one of the EDU courses. Teacher meets with her/his program director to complete the Supervisor Evaluation of Experience . Evidence of completion: portfolio submitted and approved by the ABEA Portfolio Committee

Strand #1: Self-Study

Professional Development Activity	Description
Reading 3 PD hours (per 3 clock hours reading)	Teacher spends a minimum of three hours reading articles written by researchers, practitioners, or professional developers on adult education topics pertinent to the needs identified on the teacher's Professional Development Action Plan. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: record of dates and hours spent reading, printouts/photocopies of the texts read, highlighting and/or notes taken, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
Web Browse 3 PD hours (per 3 clock hours browsing)	Teacher spends a minimum of three hours browsing internet websites targeted to adult education teachers or learners. Teachers locate sites with classroom instructional techniques and/or classroom activities for learners. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: record of dates and hours spent, Internet addresses, printouts of (selected) screen shots, copies of downloaded materials with highlighting or notes taken, written plan of how online learning or materials could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning with online materials, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
Projected Media Course (videotape, CD, DVD, webcast, podcast) 2 PD hours (per 1-2 clock hours viewing)	Teacher completes a self-paced, 1-2 hour teacher training course via projected media on a topic that relates to goals identified on the teacher's Professional Development Action Plan. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: citation of the video/CD/DVD, record of dates and hours spent viewing, notes taken, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.

Non-facilitated Web-based Course 5 PD hours (per 3-5 clock hours participation)	Teacher completes a minimum of 3 hours of self-paced, non-facilitated, non-credit, web-based course(s) on a topic that relates to goals identified on the teacher's Professional Development Action Plan. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: record of dates and hours spent, printouts of (selected) screen shots, photocopies of downloaded materials with highlighting and/or notes, copies of completed assignments, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
Individual Action Research Project 25 PD hours (per 6-8 week project)	Teacher conducts an individual action research project on a topic that relates to goals identified on the teacher's Professional Development Action Plan. The action research project includes reading articles for foundational knowledge, the statement of a research question, systematic collection of data from program or classroom practice, analysis of the data, and a description of the findings. The project typically involves 18-25 hours over a period of 6-8 weeks. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: record of dates and hours spent, printouts of articles read for foundational knowledge, written project plan, student work samples, teacher journal/notes, lesson plan showing the implementation of new teaching strategy, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new strategy.
Director-Approved Self-Study Special Project PD hours to be determined at the onset of project by the program director's communication with PDAG through the CDE/AEFL Professional Development Coordinator.	Teacher plans and gets program director's approval for a special self-study project that addresses the teacher's PD needs and that will advance her/his knowledge about adult education and/or her/his instructional skills. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: record of dates and hours spent, project plan, printouts of articles read for foundational knowledge, materials/products developed, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
International Study Tours 4 PD Hours per tour.	Teacher participates in an international study tour sponsored by an accredited college or university for which participants receive college credit. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: tour itinerary, college transcript or grade report, written plan of how new learning from the tour could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning.

Strand #2: Collaboration with Colleagues

Professional Development Activity	Description
Peer Mentoring Mentee: 5 PD hours Mentor: 15 PD hours (PD hours are per 5 clock hours of participation)	One new and one experienced teacher (3 or more years of teaching) build and sustain a mentoring relationship during one teaching period (quarter or semester). The pair meets a minimum of five times (one hour each) to discuss, strategize, plan, implement, observe, and analyze, etc. regarding an area of interest in adult education, especially in areas identified on the mentee's PD Action Plan. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: printouts of emails/correspondence between mentor and mentee, written record of meeting dates and hours, notes of discussion topics, photocopies of classroom observation notes and follow up, verbal or written summary of mentoring results and impact on practice.
Study Circle, Case Study Circle Participant: 10 PD hours Facilitator: 15 PD hours (PD hours are per 6-9 clock hours of participation)	Teacher facilitates or participates in a study circle on a topic related to goals chosen on the teacher's PD Action Plan or as determined by program needs. Study circles generally meet 2-3 times for 3-4 clock hours each meeting. Study circles are facilitated by skilled trainers and require participants to read research, try new instructional strategies and generate links between research and practice. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of attendance signed by facilitator, printouts/ photocopies of the texts read, highlighting and/or notes taken, record of meeting dates and hours, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
Facilitated Web-based Course 12 PD hours (per 10 -15 clock hours)	Teacher completes a 10+ hour facilitated, non-credit, web-based course on a topic that relates to goals identified on the teacher's Professional Development Action Plan. The course contains components such as moderated asynchronous discussion boards, synchronous live chats, required readings, homework assignments, papers, quizzes and/or a final project. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: record of dates and hours spent, certificate of completion from the facilitator, printouts of (selected) screen shots, photocopies of downloaded materials with highlighting and/or notes taken, printouts of emails/discussion boards, copies of completed assignments, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.

Program Improvement Team Team member: 15 PD hours Team leader: 20 PD hours (PD hours are per 10-12 hours of participation)	Teacher participates on a program improvement team. Hours are earned for every 10-12 clock hours of participation at team meetings. PD hours can be earned sequentially for ongoing teams. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of participation signed by the team leader, record of meeting dates and hours, printouts/ photocopies of the resources used, highlighting and/or notes taken, reports, materials, or products developed.
Curriculum Development Project Project member: 15 PD hours Project leader: 20 PD hours (PD hours are per 10-12 clock hours of participation)	Teacher participates on a team of colleagues to review currently used curriculum, research potential alternatives, and develop an improved curriculum for the local program. PD hours are awarded for each 10-12 clock hours of participation with the team. Hours can be earned sequentially for ongoing projects. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of participation signed by the project leader, record of meeting dates and hours, printouts/ photocopies of the resources used, highlighting and/or notes taken, photocopies of curriculum materials/products developed, verbal or written summary of what was learned and used in practice.
Group Action Research Project Project member: 20 PD hours Project leader: 25 PD hours (PD hours are per 15-20 clock hours of participation)	Pairs or groups of teachers conduct a team action research project which includes reading articles for foundational knowledge, the statement of a research question, systematic collection of data from program or classroom practice, analysis of the data, and a description of the findings. PD hours are awarded for each 15-20 clock hours of participation with the team. Hours can be earned sequentially for ongoing projects. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of participation signed by the project leader, record of meetings times/dates, printouts of articles read for foundational knowledge, project plan, student work samples, teacher journal/notes, video of classroom lesson, verbal or written summary of project results and impact on practice.
CDE/AEFL PAIR and/or Even Start Review Team member 10 PD hours per day of on-site participation (excludes travel time)	Teacher participates on a CDE Program Accountability and Improvement Review team or Even Start Review team. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: printouts of correspondence with PAIR-E/S review coordinator, certificate of participation, verbal or written description of the review.

Service on State or National Boards 25 PD hours per one year of service	Adult educator serves as an elected, appointed, or volunteer member on the board of a state or national professional association whose main mission is to advance the field of adult education and/or family literacy. (Literacy Coalition of Colorado, CAEPA, CoTESOL, MPAEA, TESOL, CoABE, NAASLIN, AAACE) Evidence of completion includes either of the following: 1) letter on board letterhead describing the teacher's role on the board, contributions to board activities, dates and year of service, PD Hours awarded (25) and signature of the board president or vice president; 2) certificate of participation indicating the name of the board, the type and dates of service, PD Hours awarded (25), and signature of board president or vice president.
CDE/AEFL Special Project, Advisory Group, or Local Program Special Project PD hours to be determined at the onset of project by the program director's communication with PDAG through the CDE/AEFL Professional Development Coordinator.	Teacher participates in a special collaborative project or a work/advisory group organized by the CDE/AEFL office or by the local program director. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of participation signed by the project/group leader, printouts/ photocopies of the resources used, highlighting and/or notes taken, record of meeting dates and hours, photocopies of reports, materials, or products developed, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.

Strand #3: Conferences, Workshops and Trainings

Professional Development Activity	Description
Program PD In-service Participant: 3 PD hours Presenter: 10 PD hours (PD hours are per 2-4 clock hours of participation.)	Teacher completes a 2-4 hour in-service at the local program. In-service content builds teachers' knowledge about adult learning and teaching and/or builds instructional skills. PD hours cannot be earned for time spent in staff meetings whose content is program logistics, policies, schedules, etc. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: copy of sign-in sheet, record of meeting date and hours, notes taken, copies of materials with highlighting or notes taken, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.

Half-day Workshop Participant: 4 PD hours Presenter: 15 PD hours (PD hours are per 3-4 clock hours of participation.)	Teacher completes a 3-4 hour workshop on an adult education topic, preferably as identified in the teacher's PD Action Plan. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of attendance signed by trainer/facilitator/conference organizer, record of dates and hours attended, notes taken, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson using the new knowledge or skill.
State, Regional, or National ESL, Adult Education and/or Family Literacy Conference Participant: 8 PD hours (per full day attendance) 4 PD hours (per half day attendance) Presenter: 10 PD hours per-presentation	Teacher attends 5-8 hours of concurrent conference sessions pertinent to adult education. Plenary sessions and exploration of publisher exhibits can each count as one clock hour per day. For attendance at a half-day pre-conference session, teacher attends a minimum of three clock hours. Teacher who presents a conference session receives an additional 10 PD hours per presentation. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of attendance provided by conference organizer, record of conference dates and sessions attended, handouts with highlighting/ notes taken, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.
Training / Institute Participant: 4 PD hours (half day) Trainer: 10 PD hours (half day) 8 PD hours (full day) 20 PD hours (full day)	Teacher completes a full-day (minimum 6 clock hours) or half-day (minimum 3 clock hours) training sponsored by the CDE/AEFL office or other adult education or family literacy training entity. "Training" differs from a conference in the level of active participation and decision-making required of participants. Unlike conference sessions, trainings may require advance readings and/or follow-up assignments. Evidence of completion includes some or all of the following: certificate of attendance signed by trainer, record of training dates and hours, handouts with highlighting/ notes taken, photocopies of assignments completed, written plan of how new learning could be used in practice, lesson plan showing the implementation of new learning, peer observation report from a lesson incorporating the new knowledge or skill.

Strand #4: Courses for Credit

Professional Development Activity	Description
EDU Course for the Adult Basic Education Authorization (ABEA) Student: 45 PD hours Instructor: 60 PD hours (PD hours are for completing a 3-credit hour course)	Teacher completes a course (3 credit hours) offered through the Colorado Community College system toward obtaining the CDE/AEFL Adult Basic Education Authorization (ABEA) credential. Teacher is the instructor for an EDU course offered through the Colorado Community College system. Evidence of completion (for students): copy of grade report or transcript.
Undergraduate course in field related to adult education Student: 45 PD hours Instructor: 60 PD hours (PD hours are for completing a 3-credit hour course)	Teacher completes an undergraduate level course (3 credit hours [minimum] totaling 45 contact hours with instructor) at the undergraduate level with focus on adult basic education and/or adult ESL content. Teacher instructs an undergraduate level course whose purpose is the training of pre-service or in-service adult basic education/ESL teachers in the theory and practice of educating adults. (Confer with CDE/AEFL regarding specific course taught.) Evidence of completion (for students): copy of grade report or transcript.
Graduate level university credit-bearing course Student: 45 PD hours Instructor: 60 PD hours (PD hours are for completing a 3-credit hour course)	Teacher completes a university course (3 credit hours totaling 45 contact hours with instructor) at the graduate level with focus on adult basic education and/or adult ESL content. Teacher instructs a graduate level course whose purpose is the training of pre-service or in-service adult basic education/ESL teachers in the theory and practice of educating adults. (Confer with CDE/AEFL regarding specific course taught.) Evidence of completion (for students): copy of grade report or transcript.
