

Stay Connected and Involved with FNS

Make a Commitment to End Childhood Hunger

www.fns.usda.gov/ech/make-a-commitment.html

An online commitment drive that encourages organizations and individuals to select actions they will take to reduce childhood hunger. Join the growing community of people making a commitment to end hunger in communities across the nation. Plus, every time someone makes a commitment to end hunger on the website the widget counter ticks up by one more!

FNS E-Updates - www.fns.usda.gov/fns/outreach/eupdates

E-Updates is your fun, fast, & healthy source for food and nutrition news. E-Updates provides great new stories, videos, and pictures involving FNS programs and things related to food and nutrition every week. You can also subscribe to our bi-monthly E-updates email at the top of the E-Updates page. Every E-updates email even has a different theme!

FNS Twitter, @USDANutrition - <http://twitter.com/#!/USDANutrition>

By following @USDANutrition on Twitter, not only will you be updated in real time on FNS programs and other hot topics, but you will have the opportunity to communicate with us, share your ideas, and help spread the word by ReTweeting information to your followers.

USDA Blog - blogs.usda.gov

USDA has an amazing and broad mission that impacts almost every American and many others around the world. The USDA blog is a place where you can read stories written by actual USDA staff, including stories by the Agriculture Secretary. The USDA blog allows you to search by category or keyword to bring up the stories that most interest you. "Food and Nutrition" has its own category on USDA blog.

USDA Facebook - www.facebook.com/USDA

By "liking" the USDA on Facebook, you will be updated on the latest USDA news and events happening all over the country. You can even comment on the posts and show how knowledgeable you are about agriculture.