

Maps to determine and provide the appropriate lessons. This will work for students moving in and out of the program including the case of "move-ins" from outside the district.

How will mobility of teachers be accommodated into and out of this alternative core program to the DPS core program?

Math in Focus provides an elearning website (www.hmhelearning.com) with "just in time training" and podcasts. It will provide lesson walkthroughs, video of modeled lessons, and explanation of components, assessments, pedagogy and best practices. It will also link teachers to social networks that include access to ask authors questions, read and respond to teacher blogs, and Twitter and Facebook with other Math in Focus users.
