This unit was authored by a team of Colorado educators. The template provided one example of unit design that enabled teacher-authors to organize possible learning experiences, resources, differentiation, and assessments. The unit is intended to support teachers, schools, and districts as they make their own local decisions around the best instructional plans and practices for all students.

Critical Content:
My students will Know…

- The origins and significance of major reform groups and movements of the 20th century (e.g., Progressives, New Deal, Great Society, muckrakers, trustbusters) (SS09-GR.HS-S.1-GLE.2-EO.g) and (SS09-GR.HS-S.1-GLE.3-EO.a,c)
- The historical development of and impact of technological and scientific innovations between 1865-present (SS09-GR.HS-S.1-GLE.3-EO.b)
- Methods for change in a democratic society (e.g., voting, civil rights movements, activist courts, strikes, unions) (SS09-GR.HS-S.4-GLE.2-EO.b; IQ.3)
- Examples of art and literature that reflected and advanced the reforms of the twentieth century (SS09-GR.HS-S.1-GLE.3-EO.f)

Key Skills:
My students will be able to (Do)…

- Identify and analyze primary sources for point of view and historical context (SS09-GR.HS-S.1-GLE.1-EO.d)
- Identify aspects of complexity within historical issues through analysis of primary and secondary sources (SS09-GR.HS-S.1-GLE.1-EO.a,b)
- Identify and explain significant issues that cause historical change

Critical Language:
includes the Academic and Technical vocabulary, semantics, and discourse which are particular to and necessary for accessing a given discipline.

EXAMPLE: A student in Language Arts can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement: “Mark Twain exposes the hypocrisy of slavery through the use of satire.”

A student in ______________ can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement(s):

- Progressives advocated for the expansion of human right and civil liberties, which resulted in significant reforms, legislation, and Constitutional amendments.

Academic Vocabulary:
Examine, analyze, debate, investigate, support, advocate, compare/contrast, cause/effect, culture

Technical Vocabulary:
Trustbuster, segregation (de facto and de jure), Jim Crow, Voting Rights Act of 1965, Amendments 16-21, Plessy vs. Ferguson, Brown vs. Board, civil rights, strike, union, immigration, New Deal, Progressives, muckraker, Great Society, Civil Rights Movement, civic engagement, discrimination, suffrage, human rights, civil disobedience
Unit Description:
Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties. Through this unit, students will develop an understanding of how changes in the perceptions of civil rights and liberties have led to an infringement on people’s civil rights. Students will look at changes over the past 150 years in the United States by studying events such as women’s suffrage, the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments, minority rights, etc. Finally, students will discover how individuals and groups have affected social change in the structures of power and authority through civic engagement.

Considerations:
The teacher authors of this unit focused on changes to civil rights and civil liberties from Reconstruction to today. Therefore, the learning experiences emphasize these changes. Thus, when teaching, for example, Learning Experience #7 entitled, WWII and Majority Rule v. Minority Rights, the emphasis of classroom lessons should not be on all the battles of WWII, but on the changing nature of civil rights and liberties during this era. NOTE: Some changes were made to the factual questions in the unit overview to more accurately reflect the content of this instructional unit.

Unit Generalizations

Key Generalization:
Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties

Supporting Generalizations:
- Conflicts over civil rights typically require (re)examinations of when majority rule should trump minority rights and vice versa
- Issues of context, place, and environment often dictate the distinct forms and enactment of civil disobedience
- Advancing social equality in a democratic society requires the active civic engagement of citizens

Performance Assessment: The capstone/summative assessment for this unit.

Claims:
(Key generalization(s) to be mastered and demonstrated through the capstone assessment.)
Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties

Stimulus Material:
(Engaging scenario that includes role, audience, goal/outcome and explicitly connects the key generalization)
Your team is gainfully employed by The Liberty League Coalition (LLC). The LLC has just been hired to create a documentary portraying the struggles to achieve and maintain the romantic ideal of “justice for all”. LLC has tasked your team with producing the documentary which will be presented to a delegation of international officials interested in learning more about both the historical and current efforts to ensure civil rights and liberties “for all” in the United States. Your team’s documentary should be 3-5 minutes in length and focus one group’s struggles to achieve “justice for all.”

This assessment will necessitate the creation of a rubric with a set of criteria to determine the degree to which a student’s performance meets the expectations of the summative/capstone assessment. Here is an overview of the steps in developing a performance assessment rubric.

Product/Evidence:
(Expected product from students)
Students will create a 3-5 min documentary (iMovie, Moviemaker, other movie creation software) in groups of 3-4.

Criteria:
1. Students should create a written summary of the documentary including:
   - What group will be represented (e.g., documented/undocumented immigrants, African Americans, Native Americans, women, LGBT, laborers, minority religious groups, people with disabilities, etc.)
   - What events will be included in the documentary?
   - Why has your group chosen those events to illustrate the historical and current efforts to ensure civil rights and liberties
High School, Social Studies

Unit Title: Change is a Comin`

Colorado Teacher Authored Sample Instructional Unit

“for all” in the United States?
2. The documentary should include:
   • The historical context, place (location), and environment (social/political climate)
   • The actions and reactions of peoples who questioned the violations on their civil rights and resulting governmental/legislative outcomes (e.g., laws, amendments, Supreme Court decisions etc.).
   • Historical evidence historical documents, images, maps, etc. (primary sources) to help tell the story of efforts to ensure civil rights and liberties “for all.”
   • Aspirations for the future of ensuring “justice for all”

Teacher Note: (3-4 hours of production time) 1 day (85 min.) filming 1-2 days 85 min. each editing

Differentiation:
(Multiple modes for student expression)

Students may be assigned roles such as director, writer, prop and/or costume designer, actor, editor; however, everyone needs to do some research
Students may be provided with opportunities to select certain aspects of the production of the documentary such as the advertisements, or they may choose to storyboard (paper/pen task) the documentary
Students may use note catchers, graphic organizers, etc.

Texts for independent reading or for class read aloud to support the content

Skills: Gather data, make inferences, draw conclusions, from maps representing geographic regions

Assessment:
Students will create a wall map of the United States where they will place articles, photos and other artifacts showing the regional struggles of the Civil Rights Movements.

Prior Knowledge and Experiences
At a minimum, students should have some experience analyzing primary and secondary source documents. Map reading skills, as well as knowledge of map symbols, etc. will be beneficial to students while studying this unit.
Learning Experience # 1: An Introduction to the Romantic Ideal of “justice for all”

The teacher may provide excerpts from historical texts and speeches (e.g., “The New Colossus” by Emma Lazarus, Pledge of Allegiance, First Amendment, Gettysburg Address, I Have a Dream) so that students can begin to consider how a democratic society strives to embody the romantic ideal of “justice for all.”

Generalization Connection(s):

- Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties.
- Advancing social equality in a democratic society requires the active civic engagement of citizens.

Teacher Resources:

- www.abrahamlincolnonline.org/lincoln/speeches/gettysburg.htm (Gettysburg Address)
- civilrights.findlaw.com/civil-rights-overview/civil-rights-vs-civil-liberties.html (Difference between civil rights and civil liberties)

Student Resources:

- www.abrahamlincolnonline.org/lincoln/speeches/gettysburg.htm (Gettysburg Address)
- civilrights.findlaw.com/civil-rights-overview/civil-rights-vs-civil-liberties.html (Difference between civil rights and civil liberties)

Assessment:

- Students build a classroom bulletin board with quotes, images, artwork, etc. reflecting the “romantic” notion of justice for all.

Differentiation:

- Access (Resources and/or Process)
  - Students match the concepts associated with the texts/visuals provided by the teacher (e.g., civil rights, civil liberties, justice for all, etc.).
  - Students use audio recordings or peer readers to aid students in accessing the text.

- Expression (Products and/or Performance)
  - Students work with a partner to identify the primary and secondary sources for use on the bulletin board.

Extensions for depth and complexity:

- Access (Resources and/or Process)
  - Students find their own examples of primary sources which illustrate the romantic ideals of justice for all.

- Expression (Products and/or Performance)
  - Students synthesize the ideas represented by the graphics and texts through the organization of the bulletin board.

Critical Content:

- The role of the Pledge of Allegiance and the Gettysburg Address in establishing “justice for all”
- Examples of how the United States today represents a pluralistic society (e.g., the Muslim community in Aurora, Chinatown in urban centers such as San Francisco)

Key Skills:

- Analyze primary and secondary sources for the relationship to justice for all
- Communicate key concepts accurately through visual representation
- Synthesize text to draw conclusions about Americans’ conceived of justice OR the deeper meaning and purpose of the inscription

Critical Language:

Civil rights, civil liberties, justice for all, democratic society, citizenship, national unity, social equality, breadth, pluralism, diversity
The teacher may provide primary and secondary sources (e.g., 13th, 14th, 15th amendments, Plessy vs. Ferguson, Jim Crow excerpts) so that students can begin examining the relationship and tensions between majority rule and minority rights.

Generalization Connection(s):
Issues of context, place, and environment often dictate the distinct forms and enactment of civil disobedience. Conflicts over civil rights typically require (re)examinations of when majority rule should trump minority rights and vice versa.

Teacher Resources:
- http://www.civilrights.org/judiciary/supreme-court/key-cases.html (Key Supreme Court Cases for Civil Rights)
- http://www.history.com/topics/ku-klux-klan (An overview of the Ku Klux Klan)

Student Resources:

- http://www.history.com/topics/ku-klux-klan (An overview of the Ku Klux Klan)

Assessment:
Students will create an editorial for a newspaper that examines the tensions between majority rule and minority rights OR the teacher may engage students in a discussion using Structured Academic Controversy.

Differentiation:
(Multiple means for students to access content and multiple modes for student to express understanding.)

Access (Resources and/or Process)
- Students may read sources with modified text length based on reading ability
- Students may be provided images or graphic representations of concepts

Expression (Products and/or Performance)
- Students may complete an outline for their editorial

Extensions for depth and complexity:

Access (Resources and/or Process)
- http://www.ehow.com/how_2171718_draw-political-cartoon.html (How to draw a political cartoon)

Expression (Products and/or Performance)
- Students may include both points of view (thesis and antithesis) in their editorial
- Students may choose to draw a political cartoon about one or more of the amendments (13th, 14th, 15th)
Critical Content:
- The minority and majority rights gained/changed during Reconstruction
- The platforms, policies, and efforts to ensure civil rights for all by the major political groups and grassroots organizations such as Radical Republicans, Southern Whites, Freedmen’s Bureau
- Changes to civil rights and liberties following the Civil War such as: the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments, Civil Rights Act, Jim Crow Laws, Plessy v. Ferguson, The Slaughterhouse Cases, changing definitions of citizenship
- Reactions to the expansion of civil rights: The Ku Klux Klan, racism, failure to ensure rights to Freedmen

Key Skills:
- Compare and contrast viewpoints from the perspective of region, race and politics
- Analyze legislative and Supreme Court attempts to define rights
- Analyze the use of violence to deny rights
- Analyze the effects of various methods of civil engagement

Critical Language:
Civil Rights movement, Reconstruction, Radical Republicans, Freedmen’s Bureau, citizenship, racism, majority rule, minority rights, African-Americans, Constitutional amendments, legislation, Supreme Court, Jim Crow laws

Learning Experience # 3: Civil Rights Struggles in The West

The teacher may provide opportunities to locate primary and secondary documents (e.g., Indian Removal Act, Sand Creek Massacre accounts, Dawes Act, Homestead Act) so that students can analyze the causes and effects of key civil rights conflicts in the western U.S.

Generalization Connection(s):
Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties
Conflicts over civil rights typically require (re)examinations of when majority rule should trump minority rights and vice versa
Issues of context, place, and environment often dictate the distinct forms and enactment of civil disobedience
Advancing social equality in a democratic society requires the active civic engagement of citizens

Assessment:
Students engage in a Structured Academic Controversy around a question focusing on land use in the west such as, “Whose land is it?”

http://teachinghistory.org/teaching-materials/teaching-guides/21731 (How to teach using Structured Academic Controversy)

NOTE: Structured Academic Controversies ask students to portray competing points of view within a conflict and to reach consensus to the solution around an ill structured problem.

- Civil liberties issues/events in Colorado History: Sand Creek, development of Reservations in Colorado, etc.

Key Skills:

- Identify cultural norms and behaviors
- Explain the historical context of the conflict
- Differentiate between facts and historical interpretations
- Analyze cause and effects of conflicts

Critical Language:

- Native Americans, The West, treaties, Civil Rights, national unity, environment, social equality, conflict, massacre, reservation, property rights, cultural norm, historical interpretation

Learning Experience # 4: Issues of Rights for Women, Immigrants, and Workers

The teacher may provide primary and secondary resources (e.g., The Declaration of Sentiments, excerpts from Upton Sinclair’s The Jungle, entry documents of Ellis Island, research of the time period on Social Darwinism) so that students will be able to synthesize the civil rights and civil liberties issues of groups (e.g., women, immigrants, workers) prevalent during industrialization in the North.

Generalization Connection(s):

- Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties

Critical Content:

- Changes in the rights of women: National Woman Suffrage Association, the Seneca Falls Convention, the Declaration on the Rights of Women, the arrest of Susan B. Anthony, Colorado is the first state to adopt an amendment granting women the right to vote (1893), etc.
- Changes in worker’s rights: Industrial Revolution, working conditions, length of the workday, safety concerns, child labor,
- How the role of competition within different market structures affected the labor force and workers’ rights
- The need for an increased supply in labor and the recruitment and hiring of immigrant laborers
- The ability of various economic systems to achieve economic goals: Laissez-faire capitalism, socialism, mixed economy, government regulation, free market economy
- The rise of big business and how that rise affected the rights of workers

Key Skills:

- Identify the complexity within historical issues
- Explain at how the struggles and actions of individuals inspired change
- Analyze the role of immigration in the United States labor market during the Industrial Revolution
Critical Language:
- Political rights, immigration, sexism, Civil Rights, protest, social movement, workers’ rights, the Progressives, Muckrakers, Ellis Island, industrialization, unity, suffrage, free market economy, laissez-faire, capitalism, trustbuster

Learning Experience # 5: The Fight for Civil Rights During the Industrial Revolution

The teacher may provide primary and secondary sources (e.g., historical accounts of labor strikes, 19th amendment, poetry from Harlem Renaissance, speeches from Eugene Debs, first-hand accounts of Ludlow Massacre, Homestead Strike) so that students will be able to analyze and evaluate the effects of civic engagement (e.g., rebellion, demonstrations, strikes) intended to expand the national ideal of “justice for all”.

Generalization Connection(s):
Advancing social equality in a democratic society requires the active civic engagement of citizens
Conflicts over civil rights typically require (re)examinations of when majority rule should trump minority rights and vice versa

Critical Content:

- The economic, social, technological, political and cultural transformations that occurred during the Progressive Movement
- Cultural, intellectual, and social reform movements intended to expand civil rights such as the Harlem Renaissance, the Hull House, educational reforms, etc.
- Reactions to limitations on civil rights and liberties such as the growth of labor unions, the Homestead Strike, the Pullman Strike, the Leadville Miners’ Strike, the Rico Riots against the Chinese, the Cripple Creek Strike, the Colorado Labor Wars, the creation of the American Federation of Laborers (AFL), the founding of the NAACP, etc.
- Events/issues that limited civil liberties: free speech issues during World War I, The Sedition Act, the Red Scare, the growth of Communism
- The role and efforts of labor leaders such as Eugene Debs, Samuel Gompers, Terence V. Powderly, etc.

Key Skills:

- Identify causes and effects of historical movements

Critical Language:

Civil disobedience, civic engagement, rebellion, demonstrations, strikes, national ideal of “justice for all”, social equality, civil rights, social movements, labor unions, political environment, government action, labor regulations, legislation, free speech, sedition, suffrage, Alien and Sedition Acts, anti-trust suits, progressivism

Learning Experience #6: The Great Depression

The teacher may provide excerpts from New Deal documents (e.g., photographs from the Great Depression, excerpts from Steinbeck’s Grapes of Wrath, newspaper articles from the time period) so that students can examine the tensions between majority rule and minority rights in times of economic unrest.

Generalization Connection(s):

Definitions of national unity based on romantic ideals of justice for all are often tested by populations who question the existence and breadth of civil liberties. Conflicts over civil rights typically require (re)examinations of when majority rule should trump minority rights and vice versa.

Learning Experience # 8: Civic Engagement Following WWII

The teacher may provide primary and secondary sources (e.g., Brown vs. Board of Education, “I Have a Dream Speech,” autobiography of Jackie Robinson, newspaper articles on the protests in the South, Malcolm X speech) so that students will be able to convey the reasons why civic engagement in the post WWII era led to a major expansion of the national ideal of “justice for all”.

Generalization Connection(s):
- Issues of context, place, and environment often dictate the distinct forms and enactment of civil disobedience
- Advancing social equality in a democratic society requires the active civic engagement of citizens
- Conflicts over civil rights typically require (re)examinations of when majority rule should trump minority rights and vice versa

Learning Experience # 9: Vietnam, Civil Rights, and Civil Disobedience

The teacher may provide images, television clips, documents, and audio clips (e.g., Tonkin Gulf Resolution, 1969 Antiwar Protest in Washington D.C., Kent State) so that students can examine the role of civil disobedience during times of national/popular dissatisfaction with governmental and/or military actions.

| Generalization Connection(s): | Issues of context, place, and environment often dictate the distinct forms and enactment of civil disobedience Advancing social equality in a democratic society requires the active civic engagement of citizens |
| Assessment: | Students write a persuasive essay on which forms of civil disobedience are most effective and why, using examples from Vietnam War protests and protests studied in earlier Learning Experiences. (CCSS.WHST.9-10.7) http://www.readwritethink.org/files/resources/printouts/persuasion%20map.pdf (Persuasive essay template) |
| Differentiation: | Access (Resources and/or Process) | Expression (Products and/or Performance) |
| (Multiple means for students to access content and multiple modes for student to express understanding.) | http://tinyurl.com/odsvfx (Images of civil disobedience) | Students may create a photo essay on civil disobedience choosing photos that highlight the most effective form |
