

Family Engagement Initiatives

Parent to Parent Classes

All Title I elementary schools in District 49 offer free workshops through the Military Child Education Coalition.

Classes include Test Taking Strategies, Math Literacy, Cooking with Kids and more.

Title I School-Family Compact

At the beginning of the year Evans International Elementary School displayed poster size “Title I Family Compacts” for parents, school staff and students to read, understand, and sign. They are then posted in the school foyer.

12x12x12 3rd Grade Math Reading Night

On the evening of December 12th, families, staff and students celebrated 3rd graders in the accomplishment of knowing their math facts through 12.

Students received a “License to Multiply”, a small bookshelf made by the neighboring high school vocational students and a book.

One Book One School

Evans International Elementary School Family Reading Program

Staff, students and families all read the same book and the entire community participates in a school-wide kick off assembly. There are activities for parents to read with their students at home. Literacy Nights – Families gather picnic style to hear staff members read aloud. Creates partnerships in student achievement.
