Boulder Valley School District’s Virtual Toolbox is a new resource for schools filled with links to promising partnership practices. The online portal is organized around the Parent Teacher Association’s (PTA) national standards for promising partnership practices, and follows school goals regarding the same practices.

The Virtual Toolbox aims to help schools within Boulder Valley communicate their successes via an online platform. Although the Virtual Toolbox was only introduced to Boulder Valley School District in May 2017, it is already receiving positive feedback. School staff report loving using the online portal. Boulder Valley hopes to spread the word about the Virtual Toolbox online service so more schools and administrators can actively use the site.
