Program Overview	PCG’s Turnaround Leadership supports are comprehensive and follow a thorough scope and sequence for district leaders, principals, assistant principals, and aspiring leaders. The program follows a set sequence of professional learning opportunities and participants must make a commitment to attend all learnings. The program includes virtual and blended delivery of instruction to accommodate district leaders across the state. PCG has a reputation for designing and delivering high-quality professional development valued by participants as practical, research-based, and highly engaging. Because of PCG’s work with educators in rural, urban, and suburban schools of all sizes, our team brings deep understanding of how to successfully engage educators in professional learning and guide school and district leaders to develop skills to become successful instructional leaders. As a leading education consulting firm, PCG brings national expertise and the most current thinking in the field to guide our work.
