Summary of the program: KidBizAccess KidBizAccess is our powerful, research-proven, and uniquely adaptive literacy platform designed specifically for English Language Learners, grades 2–5. It includes ongoing progress-monitoring measures, informational texts, writing activities, and administrative and reporting tools to manage the entire program, as well as extra scaffolds embedded in the daily content (the daily articles and 5-Step Literacy Routine) and exclusive content for teachers and students to work through a scope-and-sequence-based curriculum designed to meet the individual needs of these learners. KidBizAccess is appropriate for use to support any approach to second language instruction, including sheltered English and bilingual (English with Spanish supports and, ultimately, full English), English immersion (full English), and dual-language (moving back and forth between full English and full Spanish).

NOTE: We use the following descriptions to define various types of instructional support in early literacy. Please review the descriptions and identify your program according to the type of instructional support it is intended to deliver. Each approved instructional program should classify itself under one type of instructional programming only.

Core Instruction is instruction provided to all students in the class, and it is usually guided by a comprehensive core reading program. Part of the core instruction is usually provided to the class as a whole, and part is provided during the small group, differentiated instruction period. Although instruction is differentiated by student need during the small group period, materials and lesson procedures from the core program can frequently be used to provide reteaching, or additional teaching to students according to their needs.

Supplemental Instruction is instruction that goes beyond that provided by the comprehensive core program because the core program does not provide enough instruction or practice in a key area to meet the needs of the students in a particular classroom or school. For example, teachers in a school may observe that their comprehensive core program does not provide enough instruction in vocabulary, or in phonics, to adequately meet the needs of the majority of their students. They could then select a supplemental program in these areas to strengthen the initial instruction and practice provided to all students.

Advisory Program Description

Intervention Instruction is provided only to students who are lagging behind their classmates in the development of critical reading skills. This instruction will usually be guided by a specific intervention program that focuses on one or more of the key areas of reading development. This type of instruction is needed by only a relatively small minority of students in a class. In some cases, students in 2nd and 3rd grade may have lagged so far behind grade level development of reading skills that very little content from the grade level comprehensive core program is suitable for them. In these cases, students may need to receive instruction guided by a comprehensive intervention program that is specifically designed to meet their specific needs while at the same time accelerating their growth toward grade level reading ability.
