Instruction: Students learn a skill through explicit instruction—systematic, precise, and engaging.</li> <li>2. Guided Practice: As students are learning a skill, they practice what they have learned and receive support and corrective feedback to reinforce understanding.</li> <li>3. Embedded Progress Monitoring: Students are assessed at the end of each lesson, reducing or eliminating the need for teacher-initiated weekly progress monitoring.</li> </ol> Additionally, we built i-Ready Instruction by employing best practices for instruction, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Highly interactive lessons to keep students focused and engaged in their own learning</li> <li>• Themed lessons, designed to draw students into a story and give them a purpose for learning a particular concept</li> <li>• Modern, diverse, appealing, and easy to relate to characters</li> <li>• Lessons that contain games that become the basis of learning a new concept .</li> </ul> Teachers have the ability to modify, monitor and view a student’s path of instruction if needed.
