This unit was authored by a team of Colorado educators. The template provided one example of unit design that enabled teacher-authors to organize possible learning experiences, resources, differentiation, and assessments. The unit is intended to support teachers, schools, and districts as they make their own local decisions around the best instructional plans and practices for all students.

- Critical Thinking and Reasoning: Thinking Deeply, Thinking Differently
- Information Literacy: Untangling the Web
- Collaboration: Working Together, Learning Together
- Self-Direction: Own Your Learning
- Invention: Creating Solutions

Common Core Reading Foundational Standards

Phonics and Word Recognition: CCSS.RF.4.3 Know and apply grade-level phonics and word analysis skills in decoding words.

- CCSS.RF.4.3a Use combined knowledge of all letter-sound correspondences, syllabication patterns, and morphology (e.g., roots and affixes) to read accurately unfamiliar multisyllabic words in context and out of context.

Fluency: CCSS.RF.4.4 Read with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension.

- CCSS.RF.4.4a Read grade-level text with purpose and understanding.
- CCSS.RF.4.4b Read grade-level prose and poetry orally with accuracy, appropriate rate, and expression.
- CCSS.RF.4.4c Use context to confirm or self-correct word recognition and understanding, rereading as necessary.

SSN Expanded Evidence Outcomes

- Use 2-3 social phrases (e.g., compliment)
- Ask and answer simple social questions (e.g., What is your name?)
- Convey an idea on topic during a discussion
- Match a simple sentence that includes an attribute to a picture
- Answer questions about who, what and where using a 2–3 sentence Literary passage
- Read and comprehend adapted 4th grade Literature
- Answer simple when and where questions about content specific informational text
- Identify meaning of 2-3 key vocabulary in informational text by matching text to a picture, model or action
- Read and comprehend adapted 4th grade information text
- Identify structural features of a book (title, where text begins and ends on a page, bold print)
- Distinguish between real words and nonsense words
Critical Language:
includes the Academic and Technical vocabulary, semantics, and discourse which are particular to and necessary for accessing a given discipline.

EXAMPLE: A student in Language Arts can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement: "Mark Twain exposes the hypocrisy of slavery through the use of satire."

A student in ____________ can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement(s):

| My opinion of ____________ has been informed and supported by my reading of a wide array of informational text. |

Academic Vocabulary:
Evidence, investigation, analysis, evidence, identify

Technical Vocabulary:
Writer’s purpose, mood, tone, word choice, sentence structure, syllabication, morphology

These generalizations reflect the significant developmental components of reading and writing instruction essential for student mastery of the Colorado Academic Standards; they thread across the entire year and, thus, are included in every unit overview at this grade level.
Colorado Teacher-Authored Sample Instructional Unit

| Unit Description: | This 4-6 week unit explores the personal and collective values that shape perspectives and opinions on relevant topics. Students will examine appeals to values in a variety of persuasive texts and analyze the language, strategies, and structures of these texts. After researching a topic of their choice, students will produce and present an opinion piece that appeals to -- or perhaps even challenges -- their audience’s values. The unit culminates with students writing an opinion piece conveying their opinion and values. |
| Considerations: | Rarely are messages neutral, so this unit helps teachers and students examine how language seeks to persuade audiences. Teachers are encouraged to identify topics and values that are important to their local community and students. This unit takes persuasive writing to a higher level of rigor by having students explore the values that underlie persuasive writing. One goal of the unit is for students to effectively convey their opinion(s) regardless of whether the audience’s opinion is changed. |

Key Generalization: Values impact a person’s perspective/opinion on an issue

Supporting Generalizations:
- Analyzing text enables the construction meaning around key ideas
- In crafting an opinion piece of writing authors support beliefs with details and facts in order to help persuade readers

Ongoing

These Generalizations, addressed throughout the Unit (and the entire year), are explained below in the Ongoing Learning Experiences section.

Ongoing Generalizations / Learning Experiences
- Knowledge of complex orthographic patterns and morphological roots contributes to improved vocabulary and comprehension outcomes
- Effective reading comprehension relies upon using various reading sub skills (phonological awareness, automatic word recognition, fluency…etc. – as well as effectively using background knowledge and vocabulary)
- Correct sentence formation, grammar, punctuation, capitalization, and spelling facilitates clear communication in pieces of writing

Performance Assessment: The capstone/summative assessment for this unit.

| Claims: | Values impact a person's perspective/opinion on an issue. |
| Stimulus Material: | You have been selected by your school paper to write an opinion piece on a topic that is important to you and your fellow students. Because there are several issues that are important to you, your school, and your community, you are going to have an opportunity to explore many of them through class discussions and then decide which of the issues is the most crucial in your life. It’s your chance to be heard! You must create an opinion piece that clearly conveys your opinion on the issue using strong evidence, effective language choice, and clear structure that expresses your values about your topic. |
- Role: Guest editorialist
- Audience: Community members
- Format: Opinion piece
- Topic: Student choice of important topic

| Product/Evidence: | Students will write an opinion piece (editorial) for publication on a topic/issue of their choice that demonstrates their stance on the topic, conveys the values underlying that opinion, and attempts to appeal to the values of their reader. For example, school-based topics: |

Colorado Teacher-Authored Sample Instructional Unit

- vending machines in schools,
- year-round school / summer off,
- cyber bullying (is it a school issue or a community issue?),
- social media and relationships/friendships,
- music/gym/elective choices in school;

or community-based topics:
- little league/community sports and health (football helmets/concussions),
- science or social studies topics (Colorado or community relevant),
- local businesses influence on your community,
- environmental issues (e.g., recycling, fracking, etc.)

Differentiation:
(Multiple modes for student expression)
Students may choose formats other than an newspaper editorial for their opinion piece:
PSA Script (TV or Radio)
Audio and/or video recording (http://voicethread.com/products/k12/ VoiceThread)
Powerpoint presentation

Texts for independent reading or for class read aloud to support the content

Many picture books used in elementary classrooms are brought to life in this website. They include movement, narration, music, and more. This is a great way to supplement read-aloud in the classroom. It requires a subscription, but you can usually access it through the local county library websites. Under the Online tab, click on Databases a-z.)

eflash apps Play sight words (This app is for the iPads. It is a great way for students to practice sight words with motivational activities such as BINGO, memory game, unscramble, and practice of words.)

Teacher Created Materials Publishing Kids Learn sight words (This app allows users to practice writing, saying the words by recording their voices, and reading multiple sight words. It also has a tic-tac-toe feature for identifying words.)

Overdrive (This app is a way to access digital and auditory books from public libraries.)

Little speller sight words (This app allows students to practice spelling with words read aloud as well as each letter read as the student physically manipulates the letters on the touch screen to spell each word.)

Endless ABC (This app is very motivational for young students or students in special education. It provides vocabulary words sorted alphabetically and definitions as well as fun animated short videos of monsters performing the definition of the word. It also gives the student practice spelling the word and identifying the letters.)

Phonics Awareness (This app is great for students learning to segment, blend, and learning the vowels. It is aligned with the Common Core Standards and also tracks scores on assessments.)

Sentence Magic (This app is one for sentence building, sentence reading, word blending, etc. It is helpful for students beginning to learn sentences.)

Punctuation:
- Books: Punctuation Takes a Vacation by Reed
- Eats, Shoots, and Leaves by Truess
- Alfie the Apostrophe by Donohue
- Punctuation Celebration by Bruno

Student Resources:
Student resources are included in the teacher resources above.

Skills:
- Grammar rules
- Punctuation
- Variety of sentence types
- Capitalization
- Spelling

Assessment:
Students will be assessed throughout the unit in the different Learning Experiences and at teacher discretion.

Prior Knowledge and Experiences
Students should know the difference between fact and opinion (revisit and reinforce), a process approach to writing (brainstorm/plan, draft, revise, edit, publish), the elements of informational texts (table of contents, glossary, etc.), and how to use reference books and Internet search resources/engines along with basic research strategies to find information. In addition, students should know basic classroom discussion protocols/behaviors and have some technology experience (working knowledge of PowerPoint and other presentation tools, basic keyboarding skills).

Learning Experience # 1 - Vocabulary Exploration

The teacher may brainstorm a list of “value” words so that students can identify, define, and explore vocabulary to express values that shape our lives.

Generalization Connection(s):
Values impact a person’s perspective/opinion on an issue

Key Skills:
- Read grade-level text for purpose and understanding

Critical Language:
Value, identify, analysis, (and the list of core values in the unit)

Learning Experience # 2 - Surveys and Questionnaires

The teacher may use sample surveys of young people so that students may begin exploring possibilities for (and dangers of) making inferences regarding peoples’ values.

SSN: The teacher may provide surveys with value-laden questions so that students can conduct surveys and compare results from peers, parents, and other adults (e.g. teachers, administrators).

Examples:
- Why do you choose particular video games?
  - Graphics
  - Action
  - Story
  - Challenge
- How do you choose clothes?
  - Style (value: trends, popularity)
  - Images / advertising (value: humor, shock)
  - Price (value: money conscience)
  - Brand name (value: trends, status)
- How do you prefer to work?
  - Individually
  - With one partner
  - In small groups
  - Large group

Generalization Connection(s):
Values impact a person’s perspective/opinion on an issue

Teacher Resources:

- Fact or Opinion - Pack Individual Small Group Center Work (Kids and video games survey)

Assessment:

Students will make inferences about the survey results from the articles or ABC newscast.

- Inferential thinking; graphic organizer is linked in the student resources

In addition, the class may create its own questionnaire/survey

- Template to create your own questionnaire (Example of template to create your own questionnaire) and compare results from peers, parents, and other adults (e.g., teachers, administrators) to infer the values from different groups.

SSN: The student may take the survey of values; rank the values that are important to them; compile and interpret the survey / questionnaire results, identifying the patterns and trends.

The student may make predictions prior to the scenarios/questionnaires then check prediction with the results. Students may make inferences about the choices people make and values they may hold.

Differentiation:

(Multiple means for students to access content and multiple modes for student to express understanding.)

Access (Resources and/or Process):

- The teacher may pre-populate the inferential thinking graphic organizer
- The teacher may create small groups and provide visuals/visual-word relationships

SSN:

- Pair students with SSN with a peer buddy

Expression (Products and/or Performance):

- Students may complete the inferential thinking graphic organizer with partners
- Students may compare/contrast survey results by groups, create Venn diagram (3 categories), or discuss in small group and “report-out” on the findings

SSN:

- Ensure that the student has a manageable task at their ability level to participate in creating the Venn diagram or any activity-for example: use pictures or simple text related to the topic and have the student identify opposites to include in the Venn Diagram (i.e. Happy vs. Sad)

Extensions for depth and complexity:

Access (Resources and/or Process):

SSN:

Expression (Products and/or Performance):

- Students may add additional questions to the survey

  SSN:

- Allow the student to make a video or audio recording
- Allow the student to explore how people are alike and different-
- What makes people happy/sad?
- What are feelings people have?

Critical Content:

- Graphic organizers (for value vocab), defending/justifying explanations, research skills, organization of ideas

Key Skills:

- Conduct a short research process (questionnaire and survey), read grade-level text for purpose and understanding

Learning Experience #3 - Heart Shield/ Formative Assessment

The teacher may model types of nonlinguistic value representations (e.g., coat of arms, shield, flag) so that students can learn to identify the power of visuals to express personal values.

SSN: The teachers may model 3 to 5 types of nonlinguistic representations so that students can create a personalized visual representation of their own self-identified key or core values.

Assessment:
Students will create a visual representation of personal values and provide a written or oral explanation. Following the discussion, students may make a poster that represents shared classroom values.

SSN: Students will create a visual representation of personal values with written explanation; oral presentation with discussion; discussion of classroom values.

Differentiation:

Learning Experience # 4-Persuasive Language

The teacher may engage students in informal debates on common topics (e.g., should fast food be sold in school cafeterias) so that students can explore and use the language of persuasion. SSN: The teacher may provide students with a variety of persuasive texts (e.g., advertisements, commercials, visuals, brochures, Public Service Announcements, etc.) so that students can identify and analyze “loaded words” (e.g., fresh, natural, safe, extreme, cozy, artisan, hand-crafted) and images that appear frequently in persuasive writing and appeal to the readers’/audience’s values.

Learning Experience #5 - Persuasive Texts and Perspective

The teacher may provide students with a variety of persuasive texts in popular media (e.g., advertisements, commercials, websites) so that students can begin to analyze the use of visuals to persuade.

SSN: The teacher may offer persuasive text(s) and model inferential thinking (“I think that ... because the text says .... And I know that because ....”) so that students can determine an author’s perspective on an issue and the values behind it.

Generalization Connection(s):

Values impact a person’s perspective/opinion on an issue

Effective reading comprehension relies upon using various reading sub skills (phonological awareness, automatic word recognition, fluency...etc. – as well as effectively using background knowledge and vocabulary)

Learning Experience # 7- Persuasive Language

The teacher may use opinion piece(s) (e.g., the student editorials listed in teacher resources) to model inferential thinking so that students can begin analyzing texts for author’s perspective and associated values on an issue. [Understanding text, Responding to text, Critiquing text]

SSN: The teacher may provide vocabulary lists of opinion and transition language so that students can use a variety of expressions in a series of informal debates on common topics (e.g., what is a better pet – dogs or cats?). Language would include “in my opinion,” “I believe that...,” “It is generally accepted that,” “some research shows that ...”

Colorado Teacher-Authored Sample Instructional Unit

Critical Language:
- Conduct short research project that inform their personal opinion
- Identify aspects of writing that cause difficulty

Learning Experience # 12 - Modeling and Preparing the Performance Assessment

The teacher may bring in diverse examples of opinion pieces (PSAs, letters to the editor, editorials, etc.) so that students can consider the ways in which intended audience and purpose influence authors’ choices regarding the format of the opinion piece. [Understanding text, Producing text]

SSN: The teacher may model the writing process (Planning, Drafting, Revising, and Editing) so that students can craft their own persuasive writing (the Performance Assessment).

Teachers may want to address the specific challenges in persuasive writing:
- Introductions with leads, position statements and establishing credibility;
- Developing body paragraphs with reasons and evidence; addressing counterarguments; and
- Conclusions with emotional appeals.

Generalization Connection(s):
- Values impact a person’s perspective/opinion on an issue
- Analyzing text enables the construction of meaning around key ideas
- In crafting an opinion piece of writing authors support beliefs with details and facts in order to help persuade readers
- Correct sentence formation, grammar, punctuation, capitalization, and spelling facilitates clear communication in pieces of writing
