

ERR Financial Assistance Application Guidance

When to Complete the Application

The purpose of Educator Recruitment and Retention (ERR) program application is to receive financial assistance toward a program participant's educator preparation program tuition costs in an amount up to $10,000. Program participants must commit to teach in a shortage area for three years as a condition of receiving this financial assistance. As an applicant, you must already be enrolled in either an alternative or traditional educator preparation program or courses to advance an initial CTE authorization to a professional CTE authorization. You must be enrolled in the academic year for which you are seeking financial assistance. Only current and future academic year program fees can be covered. The application will be open during the following windows in the 2025-256 academic year:

1. July 1, through August 15, 2025
2. December 1, 2025 through January 16, 2026 (this window will only open if there are remaining funds after the first window)

What to Expect After Submitting Your Application

CDE will review and respond to your application as soon as possible – the goal is within 30 days, although this is not always the case. If additional information is needed, you will receive an email from the COOL system notifying you to log in and view/respond to the request. You will receive an automated message from the COOL system when your application is approved. Once the application window has closed, you will receive an email from educator\_recruitment@cde.state.co.us confirming the amount of your award (this email typically comes through in September for Window 1 applicants).

After the application window closes, CDE will send a Grant Award Letter (GAL) to the corresponding educator preparation program with a list of awardees from that window and instructions for invoicing CDE for payment. It can take 8-12 weeks after the application window closes for all payments to arrive. Status updates will be posted on the website regularly.
