

Try out the COR for Kindergarten Online Assessment System

Sometimes it's easier to see how an assessment system really works by just playing around with it. On this site, feel free to add yourself as a student, score yourself, and create a report about yourself. Check out all of the resources under the RESOURCE tab — everything you need to understand and administer COR for Kindergarten is here. If you want to try out the online teacher training, you will find the courses under the RESOURCE tab. NOTE: This site is open to anyone interested in exploring the COR for Kindergarten website. Please do not enter confidential information about yourself or your students on this open site. Because this site is used frequently, you may see others entering information simultaneously; we remove names and scores at regular intervals.
