This unit was authored by a team of Colorado educators. The template provided one example of unit design that enabled teacher-authors to organize possible learning experiences, resources, differentiation, and assessments. The unit is intended to support teachers, schools, and districts as they make their own local decisions around the best instructional plans and practices for all students.

Critical Language: includes the Academic and Technical vocabulary, semantics, and discourse which are particular to and necessary for accessing a given discipline.

EXAMPLE: A student in Language Arts can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement: "Mark Twain exposes the hypocrisy of slavery through the use of satire.”

A student in ______________ can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement(s):

I will have the ability to analyze the characteristics of a healthy relationship and the importance of boundaries which helps allows a person to develop positive stress management techniques.

Academic Vocabulary:
- Characteristics, Boundaries, Limits, Consequences, Values, Cultures, Traditions, Families, Friends, Diversity, Development, Conflict, Resolution, Community, Healthy Relationships, Character Traits, Personal connections, Analyze, Identify, Similarities, Differences, Compare, Contrast, Interaction, Relationships

Technical Vocabulary:
- Support Systems, Emotional Wellness, Diversity, Interpersonal interactions
Unit Description
This unit allows students to develop knowledge, skills, and relationships in relation to cultures, values, traditions, and beliefs so students can develop positive support systems. Students will recognize that often times, conflict and stress stem from diverse cultures, values, traditions, and beliefs. This unit culminates with a performance assessment of a narrative story. Students will incorporate elements of support systems, healthy relationships addressing diverse cultures, values, traditions, and beliefs as well as incorporating orthography and morphology to create a story. The goal of this unit is to give students the skills of forming healthy relationships, support systems, and conflict resolution regarding diversities.

Considerations
Students should have an understanding of elements of conflict resolution and how diversity impacts relationships and support systems. Teacher may want to consider local and regional diversities of cultures, traditions, values, and beliefs. It is important during discussions to be mindful of all cultures, family values, and belief systems.

Unit Generalizations

Key Generalization:
Interpersonal interactions can build positive relationships when individuals listen to and support others’ ideas. Interpersonal support systems can reinforce positive reactions and behaviors.

Supporting Generalizations:
- Families, friends, and communities who share cultures, values and traditions can provide (diverse) positive support systems that foster healthy relationships.
- Character traits can often reveal a character’s beliefs, values and/or history; readers can identify similarities and differences between themselves and characters from a text.
- Effective reading comprehension relies upon using various reading sub skills, including complex orthographic patterns and morphological roots.

Performance Assessment: The capstone/summative assessment for this unit.

Claims:
(Key generalization(s) to be mastered and demonstrated through the capstone assessment.)

Interpersonal interactions can build positive relationships when individuals listen to and support others’ ideas. Interpersonal support systems can reinforce positive reactions and behaviors.

Stimulus Material:
(Engaging scenario that includes role, audience, goal/outcome and explicitly connects the key generalization)

You and your group will create a two to three character story about relationships. In your story you have to show how each character’s beliefs and values influence their relationships. A conflict based on cultural values and beliefs needs to be identified and explored. This story needs to identify the characters’ support systems and who/when they would go to for help. The conclusion of the story needs to show how differences among the characters can enhance positive behaviors, supports and interactions. Include correct orthography (e.g. spelling, capitalization, punctuation, hyphenation, quotations, grade level vocabulary, etc.) You will then act out your story to your class.

Product/Evidence:
(Expected product from students)

Students will work with a group to create a two to three character story (depending on the size of their group) about relationships. This story needs to include the following:
- Dialogue between characters
- Characteristics of healthy relationships (e.g. friendships, families, peers, etc.) and how they enhance positive behaviors, supports and interactions
- Identification of a how a conflict that occurs as a result of cultural values and beliefs leads to stress affecting relationships.
- Discussion of support systems used and why
- Recognition of a character’s belief and values on their relationships
- Application of healthy problem solving skills leads to interpersonal interactions that build positive relationships and personal support systems

Students will practice their play in order to reinforce fluency, oral presentation skills, etc. The play must adhere to concepts of morphology and orthography.

Differentiation:
(Multiple modes for student expression)

Students may:
- Be purposely grouped
- Present one-on-one to teacher
- Be provided with possible scenarios
- Utilize technology

- Conflict resolution techniques

Key Skills:

- Demonstrate simple conflict resolution techniques
- Explain how the body reacts to stress

Critical Language:

Consequences, Values, Cultures, Traditions, Families, Friends, Diversity, Conflict, Resolution, Healthy Relationships, Character Traits, Personal connections, Analyze, Identify, Similarities, Differences, Compare, Contrast, Interaction, Relationships, Support Systems, Emotional Wellness, Diversity, Interpersonal interactions

Learning Experience # 5

The teacher may discuss how stress stemming from conflict can occur from different cultures with different values and traditions so students can recognize how an escalating situation may be deescalated.

Integration Continuum Color: GREEN  BLUE  PINK  YELLOW
Green: Active involvement in developmentally appropriate knowledge production results in work that fuses both disciplines.

Generalization Connection(s):

Families, friends, and communities who share cultures, values and traditions can provide (diverse) positive support systems that foster healthy relationships

Learning Experience #6

The teacher may provide various resources (e.g., news stories, guest speaker, time lapse, videos, and simulations) to illustrate external influences (e.g., culture, weather, human activities) so students can analyze the interdependence of influences on environmental systems.

Integration Continuum Color: GREEN BLUE PINK YELLOW

Green: Active involvement in developmentally appropriate knowledge production results in work that fuses both disciplines.

Generalization Connection(s):
Character traits can often reveal a character’s beliefs, values and/or history; readers can identify similarities and differences between themselves and characters from a text.

Assessment:
Students will complete the “Character Chart” worksheet to analyze the values and beliefs of a particular character identifying similarities and differences between the character and themselves, identifying support systems.
Differentiation:
(Multiple means for students to access content and multiple modes for student to express understanding.)

Extensions for depth and complexity:

Access (Resources and/or Process)
- Teacher may:
  - Provide examples of values and beliefs
  - Provide EReader Books or be read text

Expression (Products and/or Performance)
- Students may:
  - Be provided examples of values and beliefs
  - Be provided EReader books or be read text

Access (Resources and/or Process)
- Teacher may:
  - Provide higher level text
  - Provide research or library time

Expression (Products and/or Performance)
- Students may:
  - Be provided higher level text
  - Identify texts that will be good for peers to use in this activity

Learning Experience # 7

The teacher may utilize comprehension strategies (e.g. questioning, background knowledge, summarizing, inferences, etc.) so students can analyze the text.

Integration Continuum Color: GREEN BLUE PINK YELLOW

Yellow: Peripheral affective goals are met through the work. Learning id demonstrated in one discipline or the other, but not both.

Generalization Connection(s):
Effective reading comprehension relies upon using various reading sub skills, including complex orthographic patterns and morphological roots
