Unit Title: Reality Check – Unresolved Issues

This unit was authored by a team of Colorado educators. The template provided one example of unit design that enabled teacher-authors to organize possible learning experiences, resources, differentiation, and assessments. The unit is intended to support teachers, schools, and districts as they make their own local decisions around the best instructional plans and practices for all students.

Inquiry Questions (Engaging-Debatable):

- To what extent was the Civil War an extension of the American Revolution?
- How do groups of people demand equal opportunity and freedom?
- How have various people throughout U.S. History promoted change in the face of oppression?
- Is the struggle for personal rights ever over?
People’s geographic location can influence their perspective on economic, social, and cultural issues (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.c) and (SS09-GR.8-S.2-GLE.2-EO.a)

How did a person’s geographic location influence their perspective on slavery and abolition? (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.f)

How did the concept of popular sovereignty influence people’s perspective on federal territorial lands in the mid-1800’s? (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.f)

How do sectionalism and regionalism impact perspective?

Constitutional challenges and/or changes arise as a result of differing definitions of human rights (SS09-GR.8-S.4-GLE.1-EO.a) and (SS09-GR.8-S.4-GLE.2-EO.d; IQ.2)

What changes were made to the U.S. Constitution in the 19th century that reflected the changing views of “human property” and human rights?

How do continuity and change maintain a free and democratic society as reflected in governmental policy? (SS09-GR.8-S.4-GLE.1-EO.d; RA.1)

Critical Content:

My students will Know...

- Tariffs and trade restrictions impacted regions within the United States differently (SS09-GR.8-S.3-GLE.1-EO.c)
- The origins and effects of political compromises such as the Missouri Compromise, 3/5 Compromise, Dred Scott decision, and the Kansas-Nebraska Act (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.b)
- The various geographic perspectives that led to sectionalism (SS09-GR.8-S.2-GLE.1-EO.a)
- The enduring policies of Reconstruction which led to Constitutional changes such as the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.a,f)
- The origins, outcomes, and significance of the Civil War (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.a)
- The significance of the economics of slavery in precipitating the Civil War

Key Skills:

My students will be able to (Do)...

- Interpret maps and geographic tools (SS09-GR.8-S.2-GLE.1-EO.a)
- Use and interpret documents from multiple perspectives (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.1-EO.a)
- Compare different geographic perspectives (SS09-GR.8-S.2-GLE.1-EO.b)
- Evaluate the rights of different groups of people (SS09-GR.8-S.1-GLE.2-EO.d)
- Explain the cause and effect of the role of economic resources on political decisions (SS09-GR.8-S.3-GLE.1-EO.d)
- Evaluate people, events, and ideas through historical context to gain insight into continuity and change over time

Critical Language:

Includes the Academic and Technical vocabulary, semantics, and discourse which are particular to and necessary for accessing a given discipline.

EXAMPLE: A student in Language Arts can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement: "Mark Twain exposes the hypocrisy of slavery through the use of satire."

A student in __________ can demonstrate the ability to apply and comprehend critical language through the following statement(s):

Popular sovereignty led to debate over federal versus states’ rights and eventually the South’s secession from the Union.

Academic Vocabulary:

- Perspectives, conflict, preservation, rights, sources, analyze, interpret, trade

Technical Vocabulary:

- Popular sovereignty, abolition, Confederate, Confederacy, Reconstruction, Union, slavery, sectionalism, secede, federalism, state’s rights, amendment, Constitution, Radical Republican, human rights, oppression, antebellum North and South, the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments, intranational, regionalism, trade
Unit Description:
This unit begins with a look at the major economic, social, geographic and political differences between the Southern and Northern states. Next, students look at the most prominent tensions/disagreements/differences, the extension of slavery, and state vs federal rights. Students will then analyze various actions and reactions to these regional disagreements. Then, students will take a look at the Civil War, and its effects and major changes the country went through after the South surrendered. The unit culminates with a performance assessment which has students creating a proposal for a display case concerning the unresolved political, social and geographic issues between the Northern and Southern states.

Considerations:
As unit authors, we suggest not doing the last Learning Experience from the “Growing Pains” unit and beginning with the first Learning Experience from this unit. The content of the last Learning Experience in “Growing Pains” is more appropriate for and covers the content of the first part of this unit.

Performance Assessment: The capstone/summative assessment for this unit.

Claims:
(3 Key generalization(s) to be mastered and demonstrated through the capstone assessment.)

| Different perspectives that challenge prevailing traditions can create conflict and bring about societal change. |
| People’s geographic location can influence their perspective on economic, social, and cultural issues. |

Stimulus Material:
(An engaging scenario that includes role, audience, goal/outcome and explicitly connects the key generalization)

The principal of the school has requested a special exhibit for the school’s display case which will be presented during the week of 8th grade promotion. The principal has asked each 8th grade class (in teams) to develop portfolios proposing an exhibit for the school’s display case. You will work in teams to select artifacts (primary and secondary sources) representing the unresolved political, geographic, economic, and social issues that existed following the Civil War. Included in your examination of the unresolved issues should be the historical attempts at resolving the issue(s). Based on student votes, the best proposal will be selected for exhibition in the school’s display case.

Product/Evidence:
(Expected product from students)

Students will work in teams to select artifacts illustrating political, geographic, economic, and social issues that remained unresolved following the Civil War. Within each of these 4 areas, teams will select 3-4 artifacts (e.g., documents, images, maps, political cartoons), and should include various perspectives on these issues (e.g., Northern states, Southern states, abolitionists, slaves, slave owners).

The portfolio should include:
- the selected artifacts
- an explanation of each artifact
- an analysis of its significance in bringing about social, political or economic change
- the subsequent actions/reactions to the issue reflected in the artifact
- a visual layout for the proposed display

Differentiation:
(Multiple modes for student expression)

Students may be assigned different roles on the team based on their strengths (e.g., artistic students could create the layout for the display case).

Prior Knowledge and Experiences
Students should have a working knowledge of how to analyze primary sources. They should also have basic map skills.

Learning Experience # 1
The teacher may provide secondary sources (e.g., resource maps, historical articles) so that students can begin to understand the political, geographic, economic and cultural differences between the Northern and the Southern states.

| Generalization Connection(s): | People’s geographic location can influence their perspective on economic, social, and cultural issues

| Critical Content: | • The importance of the cotton industry to Southern states
• The impact of the cotton gin on slavery (the cotton gin increased the need for slaves in the southern states)
• The nature and importance of intra-national trade that occurred between the Northern and Southern states
• The importance of manufacturing and industry in the Northern states
• The extensive number of laborers needed to support the farms and plantations in the south led, in part, to slavery |
| Key Skills: | • Categorizing differences into political, economic, geographic or social
• Compare and contrast 2 geographic regions of the United States
• Explain the difference between international and intranational trade |
Critical Language:
Manufacturing, textiles, cotton industry, agriculture, slavery, abolitionists, southern gentry, cotton gin, sectionalism, slaveholders, international, intra-national, rural, urban

Learning Experience # 2
The teacher may provide examples of legislation (e.g., Kansas-Nebraska Act, Missouri Compromise, Compromise of 1850, “gag rule”) so that students can evaluate the attempts between the North and South to compromise about the extension of slavery.

Generalization Connection(s):
People’s geographic location can influence their perspective on economic, social, and cultural issues. Different perspectives that challenge prevailing traditions can create conflict and bring about societal change. Constitutional challenges and/or changes arise as a result of differing definitions of human rights.

Critical Content:
- The difference between a slave state and a free state
- The cause of the "gag rule"
- The importance of policies like the Missouri Compromise, Kansas-Nebraska Act and Compromise of 1850
Key Skills:
- Interpret maps to understand policies
- Summarize policies
- Construct a persuasive piece of writing

Critical Language:
- Free state, slave state, gag rule, popular sovereignty, Kansas-Nebraska Act, Missouri Compromise, Compromise of 1850

Learning Experience # 3

The teacher may provide primary and secondary sources (e.g., The Liberator, images, slave narratives, abolitionist propaganda) so that students can begin to understand the various regional perspectives concerning slavery.

- The impact of the Liberator on abolitionists and plantation owners
- Ways the abolitionists used propaganda to voice their opinions about slavery
- The role of freedmen in the Northern states (i.e. Frederick Douglas)

Key Skills:

- Construct a creative piece of writing
- Identify perspective in propaganda

Critical Language:

Abolitionist, human rights, Frederick Douglas, freedmen, the Liberator, point of view, multiple perspectives, propaganda, narrative

Learning Experience # 4

The teacher may provide primary and secondary sources (e.g., Harper’s Ferry account, the Fugitive Slave Law, Dred Scott court ruling, Underground Railroad letters) so that students can explain the various actions/reactions concerning slavery and its extension into new territories.

Generalization Connection(s):

- People’s geographic location can influence their perspective on economic, social, and cultural issues

- The restrictions put in place by the Fugitive Slave Law
- The impact of Uncle Tom’s Cabin on various groups
- The causes and effects of “Bleeding Kansas”

Key Skills:

- Identify causes and effects of various actions/reactions
- Explain how legislation restricted the rights of African Americans
- Design graphic representations of events

Critical Language:

Slave codes, Harper’s Ferry, antebellum, Bleeding Kansas, Dred Scott court case, Underground Railroad, Fugitive Slave Law, Uncle Tom’s Cabin, Nat Turner’s Revolt

Learning Experience # 5

The teacher may provide primary and secondary sources (e.g., 1860 election newsletters, Declaration of Secession from Southern states, political cartoons) so that students can examine the underlying political issues that ultimately triggered southern secession.

Generalization Connection(s):

Constitutional challenges and/or changes arise as a result of differing definitions of human rights

Learning Experience # 6

The teacher may provide video clips, maps, and images so that students can examine the economic and political realities of the American Civil War.

Generalization Connection(s):
- People’s geographic location can influence their perspective on economic, social, and cultural issues
- Different perspectives that challenge prevailing traditions can create conflict and bring about societal change
- Civil wars typically disrupt the patterns and networks of economic interdependence both intra-nationally and internationally
