COLORADO STATE PUBLICATIONS CLASSIFICATION SCHEDULE

Colorado State Publications Depository & Distribution Center
37th Edition

Introduction

The Colorado State Publications Classification Schedule is the official classification schedule of the Colorado state publications depository system. This is the thirty-fifth edition of the schedule since 1981.

The agency names in the classification schedule conform to RDA format, when available, and wherever possible, have been revised to show agency reorganizations as they have occurred since 1979. Organization prior to 1979 is attempted, but is not rigorously reflected in the schedule. For earlier time periods, publications are frequently simply classed with a larger entity. In some cases, as noted in the schedule, task forces, working groups, and the like, are classed with a larger entity and not individually classified. Names of agencies that had AACR2 forms which are not yet validated in RDA retain their AACR2 designation.

By the start of the 21st century, the frequency and impermanence of reorganizations in the departments of Education and Health were simply generating confusion and inconsistency in our classification. Readjusting the schedule every few months has become counterproductive, both for ourselves and for users. We have therefore ceased to be strict in updating these schedule sections, tending to leave materials in a given number despite administrative reorganization in the department. We intend to continue in this direction of reduced rigor in the future, including an extension of this policy to other departments as needed. Hierarchical arrangement is not random, just less rigorous than in the past, much as it was less precise prior to 1980. Form of name continues however to be significant, with rigorous use of the proper form.

The following policies on serial classification have been in place starting in 1993:

- a serial run will have one number even if the publishing agency's hierarchical placement within the departmental organization changes. If a unit moves from one department (first level agency) to another, the call number will occasionally be split.
- a serial run will have one number even if the publishing agency, below the department level, undergoes a name change, as long as the main entry for the publication does not change.
- a serial run will have just one number when the title changes, but neither the name nor the hierarchical position of the publishing agency changes.
- from 2013 forward, no new split serials will be created. All issues of a serial will file under a single call number.
- in addition we have, in some cases, united the volumes in existing split serials under the call number retained in the bibliographic record.

The Colorado State Publications Library stopped collecting publications from the Denver Regional Council of Government (DCG), the Regional Transportation District (RTD), and the Urban Drainage and Flood Control District (UD) in 1992. In 1998 all materials in these ranges of the classification schedule were removed from the collection. These agencies remain in the classification schedule. Most of the Regional Library System (RLS) material was removed in 2000.

Sometime in the 1990's the State Publications Library stopped collecting publications from Rocky Mountain Forest and Range Experiment Station (Fort Collins, Colo.) (UCSU20/12). In 2002 all materials in this classification number were removed from the collection.

This schedule includes an updated keyword index to agency names.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO DENVER (UCD)

UCD

The two Denver campuses of the University of Colorado went through multi-stage name changes between 2004 and 2007. The timing and nature of the changes were unclear, both to University publishing entities and to the public, at various times over this period and later. In 2004 the downtown (Auraria) campus of the University and the Health Science Center were administratively joined and officially named: University of Colorado at Denver and Health Sciences Center. Dissatisfaction with this name ultimately resulted in a name change for the still-united entity to: University of Colorado Denver. This effectively happened in October 2007, but was finalized by the Regents in 2009. Since 2007 the University of Colorado Denver has encompassed the Downtown Campus and the Anschutz Medical Campus/School of Medicine.
The UCD section is used for the University of Colorado Denver system. Entries for administrative/service entities that serve the system as a whole will be entered here. Entries for the Downtown/Auraria campus will also be in UCD. Entities for the Medical School/Anschutz campus will be entered in UCHS.
